

She is a art historian specialized in contemporary art and focused on publications. She worked for several film and art events and is the former editor in chief of le négatif magazine dedicated to film photography.